Letter from the Program Director

Written by John Mensah

As we step into March and celebrate Women's History Month, we reflect on the powerful words of Coretta Scott King:

"The woman power of this nation can be the power which makes us whole and heals the rotten community, now so shattered by war and poverty and racism. I have great faith in the power of women who will dedicate themselves wholeheartedly to the task of remaking our society."

We reaffirm our commitment to uplifting and empowering every member of our community. We continue to stand for gender equality, ensuring that women of all ages have access to the resources, education, and opportunities they need to thrive—wherever life may take them!

As an organization, we remain committed to enriching the lives of residents in managed communities through impactful services and programs that foster growth and development. Our dedication to gender equality ensures that women of all ages can access the resources they need to thrive, no matter where life takes them.

This commitment shines through in our vibrant and engaging after-school program. With a strong focus on STEAM learning, our learning lab sessions blend direct instruction with hands-on, project-based learning. Designed to spark curiosity and creativity, these programs are guided by experienced educators who inspire and empower students every step of the way.

We prioritize delivering programs and services that cater to the unique needs of adults and seniors in our communities. From career readiness workshops and financial literacy classes to health and wellness initiatives, our offerings are designed to empower and support you. Whether you join us in person at the community center or participate virtually from home, our dedicated team will guide you every step of the way.

Thanks to the generosity of your apartment community, all our programs and services are provided free of charge, bringing valuable resources right to your doorstep. The community center is a vibrant hub for growth, connection, and support throughout the month and beyond. We welcome your ideas and feedback—feel free to reach out to your site coordinator, call our main office at 301-925-4251, or email us at programs@csfnd.org.

Health & Wellness

Written by Janel Patrice

March is a significant month for mental health awareness! Several days within the month of March are dedicated to increasing understanding and breaking the stigma around mental health conditions. From self-injury to bipolar disorder, these observances provide opportunities for education, advocacy and support.

For this month, let's center our focus on our loved ones. Specifically, to our children who may be feeling sad and discouraged, and to our staff, who have gone silent and may be showing signs of hopelessness and worthlessness. A positive word goes a long way to those that may be longing for companionship or just to know that they are worthy of love and appreciation.

Today in the world, our children face increasing pressures from school, social media, and personal challenges. Let's encourage parents, teachers, and our own mentors to check in on their mental well-being. Mental health struggles are real, and support is available. For CSF staff, EAP is right at your fingertips and is a free resource for you that is confidential. Ask your HR representative for more information.

In conclusion, whether it's through social media campaigns, community events, or simple conversations, each of us has the power to make a difference. Let us use March as an opportunity to educate support and advocate mental health awareness.
